UPSWING IN BUILDING

PAHOKEE — Total building permits issued in the first six months of this year total $16,225 less than total permits for all of last year, according to City Building Inspector Frank Thompson.

Thompson reported that all permits issued in 1953 totalled $279,860, while the first six months of this year amount to $365,635.

The first half of 1954 shows a promise start toward the record permit year, $349,491 in 1949. Large structures such as Pahokee First Baptist Church and the Negro school swelled the total amount for which permits were issued. Repairs to existing dwellings and new houses contributed to the total, according to Thompson.

DEATH TAKES NO HOLIDAY

Twenty-two people who are looking forward to the pleasures of the Fourth of July weekend will be dead Monday night as a result of accidents, if the state's usual average for a three day holiday is maintained. The figure is based on figures of the Florida Safety Council. Eleven will be killed in traffic, along with 400 others injured. Six will drown. Five will succumb to the effect of over-exertion.

BG WATER IS PURE

BELLE GLADE — Despite its definitely suspicious color and notwithstanding the low rainfall, Belle Glade water is safe to drink now as before the rainy season, Water Supt. Clarence Throop told the Jaycee dinner meeting recently.

Guests at the regular dinner meeting last Tuesday were representatives of the water department.

Throop, Water Commissioner Walter Ashley, and City Manager Tom Carle.

Questioned about the present color of the city water, Throop explained that this was due to the fact that when the rainfall is heavy, water drains from the nearby fields into the rim canal around Lake Okeechobee, from which comes Belle Glade water.

This present color of Belle Glade water is responsible for having the third worst water in the United States and the appearance or heavy coloring, about the same time each year, has kept the water department from winning an award several years.

The color could be removed with chemicals but the resulting water would be unfit for consumption, he added.

Improvement Possible

Throop said there is a possibility that the water tested and color could be removed if the supply were pumped in from a point out in the lake, rather than from the canal. Cost for such an installation would be approximately $300,000.

The water department's budget for 1954 is $228,000, on which payments are $18,000 per month. These monthly payments will have to be increased to meet the bond expiration date in 1973. There is a surplus of $42,000 on hand to handle maintenance and emergencies.

Throop said he hopes that when the surplus permits, a settling tank can be installed at a cost of approximately $50,000.

Due to these circumstances it looks as though the water will probably retain its color until the state has a new well or a number of wells installed with chemicals developed that will be satisfactory.

Other than Supt. Throop, the water department has four operators and three distribution men. Two of the men hold class certificates and the other two are working for this rating. Constant check is made on the water condition through the facilities of a laboratory in the plant. A weekly report is made to the city manager and 13 water samples are taken daily by the health department each month.

75 Miles Of Maine

There are 75 miles of water mains within the city limits to be maintained as well as 27 electric motors from 1/32 horse power to 50 horse power. The power to 50 horse power.

BOY SCOUTS RETURN FROM HOG POND

PAHOKEE — High water did not keep nine Scouts of Troop 72 from going to summer camp instead of Lake Osborne where water was high and they went to Hog Pond in Hernando County.

Their camp at New Port Richey, close by Hog Pond, afforded them a chance to explore Tarpon Springs.

According to Scout Master Ed Carver the boys had a fine time.

Scouting, no boy was injured and plenty of fish were caught.

Returning last Saturday, the Scouts had a good time.

Kenneth Sullivan, Ronald Jones, Donald Thomas, Franklin Smith, Larry J. Usher, Walter Fountain, Larry and Leon Beede, and Trip Alderman.

WASHINGTON — Until y^{esterday} among the people of the United States, and a bi-partisan approach to handling foreign affairs, was returning, at long last, now that the Communists have exposed their intention to make permanent an operating base which they have established at Guatemala.

Even communication which I have received since I spoke in the Senate about the "revolt," has indicated widespread support for the free people of Guatemala who want to throw off this Communist yoke. Both parties in the Senate are supporting a resolution introduced by Senator John F. Kennedy, Democratic leader, to warn the Soviet government to stay off the affairs of the Western Hemisphere.

The sympathies of the American people are with the "liberators" of Guatemala. This sister republic, called "the jewel of Central America," is the most populous, but is impossible to believe that Communist methods will work in the Americas, and that the handful of Communists who have slipped into control can survive in authority.

Clearance for Cadets: Secretary of Defense has directed the use of systems of loyalty clearance for military academy students. Since three Naval Academy graduates had their commissions held up recently for security checks, I urged that such investigations be made before they entered the academy. It is now believed that for years of research and testing, were completed at taxpayers' expense.

Congressional "dog-days" are here: You may have another name for it, but the pace of the work here is picking up, and there are no more weekends. No one here is working, established and Congress adjourned. Goal now is July 31. Saturday and night sessions, are already being held. That means there'll be no more visiting Florida for at least the next six weeks. It is the time of year when an invitation therefore to turn down invitations which come in. But I have been fortunate and have had many fine occasions in Florida. Among my visits have been annual meetings of University of Florida Student Government, the American Legion, Cattlemen, and Citrus Mutual, FFA day at the State Fair, Gasparilla, the Miami Beach Taxpayers and a number of others. I look forward to other visits.

Young Billy Platt, when his father was county agent in Volusia, developed a love of fishing that carried him to Rhode Island. Red chickens and won many state awards for his 4-H group. When Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belew were in Japan a year or so ago, they observed a deficiency in the chicken stock in the prefecture of Himeji. A farm youth group, similar to 4-H, was working to improve this stock. When the Belwes passed the word to DeLand, the Volusia 4-H club and subsequently the Florida 4-H Council decided to assist the Japanese. So they made plans to ship carefully selected setting to the overseas islands.

Complications arose when shipping time arrived. At the National 4-H Encampment, the Florida delegates, carrying the Florida 4-H emblem, went to the office again. We had a few conversations with the Japanese Embassy. Final result: the eggs went winging to Japan in the diplomatic pouch of a flying courier. Delivery of the eggs, tenderly handled all along the way, was accomplished on June 24.

BY SCHATZI

Many times I get my paw caught in the typewriter keys, or am caught with it in my mouth.

But occasionally, I wedge a paw into the book shelves and come out with a dictionary, just to prove how literate I am.

It becomes a dog to be literate, as an example to people.

This morning I happened that one night last week I nipped the Thorndike-Barnhart and the Webster's off the shelf and tried to find out what "mossback" means.

This was because the bosses and several people were hashing over a letter I had written to my column last week.

I wrote an unsigned letter to the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce, giving the town what-for and pointing out how far ahead of Pahokee its neighbor Belle Glade was. The letter took the Pahokee "mossbacks" severely to task.

What is this mossback, I asked myself?

At first I reasoned (rather foolishly) that this mossback was just another of those strange tropical creatures that I keep encountering in the yard.

Then I heard one of the Belle Glade guests say "Of course, every town has its mossbacks."

So I knew a mossback wasn't just a tropical animal.

I then realized that I was "mossbacked" under "N. Am., slang, a person whose ideas are out of date." Webster, always inclined to call a spade a garden implement, listed "mossback" as "ultraconservative, a fogey." Looking up "fogey," I found "a person who is a conservative, is known as a 'mossback'."

But nowhere could I find just exactly where "mossback" came from.

I remembered a turtle I'd seen once. It had most all over its back, and it snapped at me.

The turtle, which I had just tried to snap back, and pointed out that this was a turtle not to be pushed around. It had some interesting habits, they said, such as laying 180 eggs at one time, and then crying about it.

I remembered that turtle. I figured I could have told that little discussion group just what a mossback is.

A human mossback undoubtedly snaps at his fellow man, lays eggs in the form of dollars in the bank, and then cries about everything now.

$6,100,000, much of this due to the work of Senator Holland who serves in the committee handling such projects.

Senate and House now have compromised at a $4,250,000 sum for the project, which begins July 1. In addition, it has been agreed to permit the state to use an available fund of $2,900,000 and to receive full credit under the matching arrangement, thus giving us an aggregate of 17,150,000 for the project next year.

Meanwhile, public works committees have agreed to extend substantially the authorized boundaries for the project, thus giving us more "elbow room" in emergencies and improving the picture in flatland.

Your entire delegation is due credit for these accomplishments.

Rep. Syd Herlong master-minded the Democratic baseball team to a 1-2 comeback victory over the Republicans on another night of the annual charity game. Real victory he brought home was to the Washington Boys Club which chalked up over 3000 dollars to send underprivileged youngsters to summer camp.

Profit grows where water flows . . . More than just slogan, farmers find

By IRA MILLER

"Profit grows where water flows." That's been the slogan of the water systems people for some time. It's more than a catchy phrase, and that's good, for the use of instant running water on the farm. If you don't think so, just reflect for a moment large enough to deliver all of the water required. Have your system designed to keep pressure drop less than 10%.

Also, you should be forewarned in doing some planning. A farm pond in the Plains States may be the answer to supplement well and spring water. Power suppliers large enough to do the job are available to all over the world.

Guatemala is but one case in point. It is an important instance because it is in the western hemisphere. Our national interests are menaced and our international relations with our neighbors are embarrassed by the intrusion of Communist Russia on the Central American front.

Since World War I own affairs without our continued assistance. The Platt Amendment ratified by the Senate was not ratified by the House. Differences have been ironed out and peaceful settlements to issues have not been arrived at. Russia has seen the path the West has taken. She has succeeded in countering every Western move by practices the West abhors. Holding prisoners for ransom, false accusations of germ warfare, Berlin blockades, these are only a few of her methods.

The new hope for the West is based on the same principles used in putting the Haitian government on its feet. No foreign power seriously questioned the right of the United States to be in Haiti.

But the practice of intervention is not proper, say the proponents of "wait and see" dip-

They will wait until we have been overrun and see that the declarations which Thomas Jefferson set forth and which the Signers agreed to were of this nation against the ruthless Spanish government then in control.

Army Chooses New Uniform

The returns are in, and Army men across the nation have selected a new general duty uniform, reflecting the traditional "olive drab" in favor of gray-green wool serge.

The new uniform, which also eliminated the famous Eisenhower jacket, was chosen by enlisted men and officers of the Regular Army, Reserve and National Guard in a series of preference votes held throughout the country in recent months.

The change will be the first departure from the traditional olive drab and khaki for general duty wear in more than 50 years. However, the Army's preference indicated its desire for a color change when it adopted a blue all-wool dress uniform.

The new general duty uniform has a fitted coat that extends below the hips, with no pronounced flaps or beltline seam, and two upper and two lower button-through flapped pockets. Trousers have no pleats or cuffs. Enlisted men and officers will wear the same uniforms, the only difference being in insignias.

Despite the change in color and style, the Army has shown no apparent preference for wool — traditionally used in servicemen's garbs. Because of its durability and ability to provide comfort under all weather conditions, wool best meets servicemen's needs.

The Army's move to a new uniform is expected to begin in 1955, as soon as Congress and the Defense Department have given their approval. The Army's choice of Army men for general duty wear, gray-green in color, it will replace the traditional olive drab model with the familiar Eisenhower jacket.

Guacamole Delivers Magic Life To Any Party Table

"Guacamole" is a magic word in Mexico that signals a real taste treat.

An avocado mixture that is as good a dip, a sauce, and a salad as it is to be served at your next party, guacamole goes far back in Mexican history. It is an old Cortez ate his avocado base the first time he was feted as a guest of Mexico in 1519.

Today Guacamole plays just as big a part in the Mexican diet, and is rapidly being discovered by American homemakers who are finding it a simple, safe and exciting to serve when entertaining.

In Mexico, Guacamole is prepared a number of different ways, but invariably at Mexican cocktail parties it is served with corn chips. When ready to serve, puree avocados and blend with lemon juice. Combine tomato mixture with avocado mixture and set aside with corn chips.

Yield: 3 cups dip.

If a slightly more spicy dip is desired, add one teaspoon of hot sauce to the mixture.

Civic Leaders May Ride With FHP

Believing that one experience is worth a thousand cautions, the Florida Highway Patrol has invited the officers and committee chairman of Glades civic clubs to ride with the patrol this holiday weekend.

Civic leaders may make reservations for rides through the Pahokee FHP office, through Monday. A limited number can be accommodated in advance of patrols; according to Trooper Charles McWilliams, acting head of the Pahokee office.

"Operation Safety" has been proclaimed through the mayors of all Florida communities and cooperation of drivers is sought not only for the safety of themselves, but for every driver during the year. "The life you save may be your own if care, caution and sobriety plus attention to the rules of the road are watchwords for every driver," the FHP said.

FHP Holiday Schedule

Florida State Highway Patrol announces that drivers' licenses and examinations will not be given in Belle Glade or Pahokee on Monday, July 5th.

COUNTY COMMISSION TO CONFER ON DRAIN

The county commission this week had scheduled a conference with Central and South Florida Flood Control District representatives in an effort to try to work out mutual drain problems in the coastal area. In addition, the commission was on record by resolution of asking early construction of Canal 17 in the north end of the county, an FCD project which drains through the Earman River.

Commissioner Kenneth Foster, who introduced the resolution, said that the request had the approval of the city's of West Palm Beach, Lake Park and Riviera Beach. The project has been authorized in the FCD program but funds for the construction work have never been budgeted, Foster said.

PAHOKEE — Three boats from the local Boat Club joined 25 West Palm Beach boats on Saturday for a cruise to Fort Myers, according to Mrs. William McKinstry. Local enthusiasts besides Commodore and Mrs. McKinstry were Miller Wilson, Bill Hatton, Jimmy Wilson and Junior McKinstry. The group returned Sunday.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Two primitive men dug up the earth of their adjoining farms and started. One works much harder than the other and uses his surplus production to give him some free time.

"Dad" is a hard worker and domesticates wild animals. Then he fashions a plow and quintuples his produce.

In his spare time, he domesticates additional animals and fashions more and better plows.

He supplies a pig and cattle to the other man, thus understanding that he is to receive one-cent of the increased production. The neighbor will profit by the extra labor but the first man will suffer incomparably more.

The first man becomes a capitalist by supplying animals and equipment to the farmers throughout the community. As he becomes rich himself, the benefit accruing to his neighbors exceeds his own gain by many times.

If his neighbors refuse to pay him, he will stop working, inventing, and creating new improvements for them. He is a gambler, to be sure, by reason of their refusal to give him sufficient reward to induce him to continue his improvements but the first man will suffer incomparably more.

Unless adequate reward is offered to the saver, the risk-taker, the inventor, and the enterpriser, the efforts of such men will decline and all will suffer thereby. Under no circumstances can a social benefit accrue to the risk-taker, other men are stimulated to save and invest their savings to further enrich the entire community.

A bold, hardworking man saves enough to build a factory and employs a hundred men to operate his machines. The employees benefit by less exhausting toil and by more rapid transportation than they might enjoy if they worked for themselves and labored with their hands.

If the right man own property and receive no return for its use, denied, people will not work hard, invent or initiate in order to create property. If the right man does not profit, the result will be unfortunate for property-owning citizens but the results will be infinitesimal. The results of property made possible by capital equipment. This equipment came into being through the efforts of risk-takers aided by savings, invention and good management.

BIG WATER

(Continued From Page 1) is one diesel engine, and six pumps with capacity ratings from 500 gallons per minute, to 5000 gallons per minute, according to the superintendent.

The present cost of chemical per day is $48.75 and the selling price of water is $2 for the first 2500 gallons.
